

Wemas

WEMAS Absperrentechnik GmbH is a full-range provider of certified passive mobile road safety equipment. The company supplies both wholesalers and roadwork safety service providers who are in charge of road safety, infrastructure and construction markets, predominantly in the DACH region.

When ambition meets ambition

Increasing traffic volume, growing investments in road infrastructure and safety concerns drive the need for safety products. WEMAS is well positioned to capture growth in that road safety market thanks to its fully integrated value chain and its focus on product innovation and value-added services. Geographically, WEMAS' ambition is to continue to grow its core business, both in the DACH region and internationally.

Together, we build a leading company

Together with WEMAS' ambitious and entrepreneurial management team, we will use our network and our experience in building leading companies to help shape the future of WEMAS. The expansion into adjacent road safety market segments will happen potentially through acquisitions. WEMAS realized two acquisitions in adjacent segments earlier this year: Gerding Verkehrstechnik is active in the development and distribution of electronic mobile traffic safety products as well as the installation of traffic signs. Landwehr Schilderfabrik is active in the manufacturing of passive traffic signs.
